

How can i change Southwest flight booked through chase travel

If you booked a Southwest Airlines flight through Chase Travel and now need to make changes, the process is slightly different than booking directly with the airline. Here's a clear guide to help you understand how to modify your reservation smoothly.

How to Change a Southwest Flight Booked Through Chase Travel

1. Check Your Fare Rules First

Southwest Airlines is known for flexible policies, but changes still depend on the fare type you selected:

- Wanna Get Away® fares – usually allow changes with fare difference applied
- Anytime & Business Select® fares – more flexible with fewer restrictions

Before making changes, review your ticket details in your Chase Travel account.

2. Log in to Your Chase Travel Account

- Go to the Chase Travel portal
- Sign in with your credentials
- Navigate to your booked trips or itinerary

Locate your Southwest flight booking.

3. Request Changes Through Chase Travel

Since the ticket was booked through Chase, you may need to:

- Use the “Manage Booking” or “Change Flight” option in your account
- Or contact Chase Travel customer support for assistance

They act as the intermediary between you and Southwest Airlines.

4. Check Southwest Directly (If Needed)

Sometimes, Southwest allows limited self-service changes:

- Visit the Southwest Airlines website
- Enter your confirmation number (if available)
- See if you can modify the flight directly

However, if the booking was issued via Chase, direct changes may not always be possible.

5. Understand Fare Differences and Fees

- Southwest typically does not charge change fees
 - However, if your new flight is more expensive, you must pay the fare difference
 - If the new fare is cheaper, you may receive a travel credit

6. Contact Support for Faster Help
